THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1868.

BRIBERY.

THE charge of extortion against the Inspector of Buildings gives rise to some natural reflections upon the ideas entertained by the native Chinese of our police and judicial administration. We have not, of course, the slightest intention commenting upon the case in question, it | the Post Office. being sub judice : but the fact of its being brought forward serves to remind us of the ineradicable belief in official corruption which forms so ingrained a portion of the Chinaman's belief. As a necessary consequence we are tempted to ask what means are adopted to instil into the native mind correct sentiments upon this subject? To say that, as punishment invariably follows upon any gov ernment employé being detected receiving bribes, a sufficient check is thereby imposed upon the credulous native is, simply, to talk nonsense. Even | breakage or rust." in China itself the hotbed of "bribery the and corruption" punishment frequently broken as also some ten or twelve of the follows the detection and proof of such an offence, and a pretty lengthy roll containing the names of officials displaced and degraded from this cause bears witness to the fact; but, despite anything to

does not result from the mere commission of so venial a crime, but from the misfortune of possessing enemies powerful enough to make such a peccadillo the hundle of an official prosecution. There have been sufficient instances in Hong koug to justify the suspicion that it is considered to be a recognized means access to certain departments though we are fully convinced that no colour to such a belief has ever been given by the conduct of those holding authority in those departments. Did we merely take the recorded cases in which bribes have been offered and refused we should have sufficient ground for the assertion that there is a wide-spread belief in their efficacy amongst the native population. The question is, how can this belief be eradicated? It takes two parties to complete an act of briberythe briber and the bribee. We may, by the employment of strictly honorable subordinates, do away with the latter The former will, we fear, continue to flourish so long as Hongkong contains a native population. But the practice riently that the very successors of an official superceded from this cause unblushingly follow his footsteps, it being generally understood that punishment

might be materially checked by a little action on the part of the executive. It was, we believe, found necessary in Peking to post notices, at the gate of the Legations to the effect that any native who could prove the reception of a bribe on the part of the Chinese servants should have the amount returned to him and a reward besides. Some such notice posted up at our police and other Courts. would, we are convinced, have a beneficial effect. It might be urged that this would open the door to false accusations. but care being had as to the decisive value of the proof produced, there is, we imagine, but little danger from this source to the strictly honest portion of the subordinates. It is, at all events, uninis- for any purpose whatever (excepting these. takeably necessary that means be taken to mark official displeasure against both the offerer and receiver. To supplement the notice above referred to with another to the effect that any one who received a bribe should, if he informed, receive a vessel, bs. parties in a more dangerous position. It might then be a case of "diamond cut diamond" at times, but the general tendency would be what we should aim atto render bribery an unsale operation for both sides. It is now so to a certain extent, but not sufficiently to bring the possibly disagreeable results vividly beforo the native mind. Our suggestions may possibly be improved, but that some means be adopted to repress a daily increasing source of distrust in our law. and reputation for honest dealing, is, we are convinced, a necessity. No Chinaman believes that the whole of any bribe received by a policeman goes solely into his own pecket. However unfounded and absurd the supposition, it is invariably held that some portion of it goes into the pockets of his superiors; and if twenty-five years of British administration have still left this belief extant the sooner it is "stamped out" the better.

THE remarks put forth by Householder in his letter published yesterday are worthy of some attention, though they tend rather to prove a mistaken idea on the part of His Excellency the Governor than to advance any very cogent reasons for lessening the stamp duty on small bills. The argument cuts both ways inasmuch as by his very shewing the average of exchange on England is favorable to the Colonial public; and the amount paid for the stamp comes therefore out of the sum made by exchange in place of trenching upon the actual sum reckoned at par. When the exchange becomes unfavourable, the post-office will on the other hand, afford a ready means to remitters of small sums, to obtain orders at a fixed rate of deduction, so that while it is undeniable that the remitter must pay in some form, the tax. does not become in either case unjustly heavy. If, however, the argument of His Excellency be supposed to refer only to remittances between Hongkong and the open ports of China and Japan there will be a reasonable cause for accepting the new postal regulations as a decided boon. The great difficulty hitherto has not been the rate of exchange between these places, but the question of obtaining bills for small sums at all. The Stamp Act will but slightly affect small money transactions in this direction, which will be carried on almost entirely through this case by the Chief Justice, this day :-In this case I am of opinion that judgment must be entered for the defendant. A variety of goods including 2 centrifugal machines and 30 casks of fire clay wers shipped in London by McDonald & Co. in July last on board the Red Riding Hood, cousigned to the plaintiffs at Hongkong Of that vessel the defendant is the master. The goods were shipped under a bill of ading in the ordinary form with the exception of a memorandum indorsed upon it to this effect "Weight and contents unknown, and not accountable for leakage

When these goods arrived in Hongkong the centrifugal machines were found to be casks and this action is brought to recover lamages for the injury. The condition in the bill of lading in terms exempts the master from liability but the true meaning of that condition is according to the authorities, that he is not liable for breakage, unless the act was occasioned by his negligence or the negligence

the contrary, bribery flourishes so luxu- | of his crow. As regards the centrifugal machines am of opinion that it was not so caused It seems to me to have been caused by heavy goods being placed by the Stevedore on these machines. But that is not neces sarily negligence. He was surely justified in placing heavy goods upon a heavy mass unless forewarned that notwithstanding its outward appearance it was of a delicate and tender nature. No such warning or communication was made to the defendant, and the negligence therefore was in my opinion the negligence of the shipper. As regards the casks, I have no evidence before me, that they were broken by the He is therefore protected by that memorandum. Upon the whole judgment must be entered for the defendant with costs, neluding custs of Attorney. Mr Hayllar, instructed by Mr Hazeland, appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr Caldwell for the defendants. WE copy the following from the Cape Adrertiser of Feb. 25:-His Excellency the Governor has directed the publication of the following communication addressed to the Honourable the Collector of Customs by the officer in charge of the Island of Ascension, relative to the establishment of pier dues at that island: " Island of Ascension, 18th December,

> POLICE COURT. Monday, May 11th, 1868.

(Before Charles May, Esq.) Edward Lawrence, inspector of police, attached to the Surveyor General's Department, was charged yesterday before Mr May, with the extortion of $20 under cover of office. Mr Francis (for Mr Gaskell) appeared for defendant. Tam Achov, native merchant, deposed to having paid the sum of $500 as a preventative against being Buinmoned for not having built certain bouses according to Ordinance. He was summoned two months since, because the bouses built on the Bonham Strand (late fire) were not built according to the provisions of the Building Ordinauce. Defend ant came to him, saying that the houses would have to be taken down, and that would cost him two or three thousand dollars : whereas if he gave him $600 ($10) for each house only, viz., sixty houses) he would not only save the money for rebuilding, but get the rent too. this defendant added that he sometimes got $50 for one house, and sometimes 825 for a small house. Witness then offered defendant four $50 notes ($200); but defendant returned them, saying he wanted $600. He afterwards gave $500 to Chow Atuck to give to defendant. In answer to Mr Francis, witness stated that he smoked opium and besides did not see very clearly, owing to his extreme old age, at any distance; and in further cross-examination witness explained in detail the manner of the "cumshay" and the state (so far as he knew from Chow Atuk) of the sixty houses he was then building on the site of the late are. The sum so paid was, he believed, entered in a book several days after the transaction: it was, however, entered before he waw Mr Smith, protector of Chinese, who was now the prosecuting Government officer, -Chow Atuk, contractor, having stable. been next called, was cautioned by the Magistrate, who asked him to say every word of the truth, as it was most essential that every government officer should be honest. and it was most essential for the interests of the Chinese community, of which he was a respectable member: About two months defence, when the Magistrate observed that Mr May remarked that the fate of the he would be glad to hear any defence which: could be made. Mr Francis therefore briefly sketched the defence to be set up. In so far as the object for which Tam Achoy was alleged to have paid the $500 was never attained it was inconsistent to say that it was ever paid at all ; and besides the whole story was inconsistent in itself. To imagine that a Chinaman would pay so large a sum, with the alterations which the bribe was highly absurd. Inspector Lawrence. VIOTORIA HOTEL .- Richard Clarke next inspector of buildings, had necessarily a deal appeared to request that a transfer of his of trouble with Chinese, and had hundreds of summonses like that produced in the present case; and when Chinese were sen for and asked whether they had any com plaints against the Inspector, it was but natural that they would be eager enough to lay such. The truth of the matter in this case had been partially told, because Tam Achov did offer the Inspector $200 which was refused, after which the Inspector left the house. It was, however, very difficult to prove a negative, in opposition to the affirmations of Tam Achov: but it was neverthe-Mr Clark (who appeared to be very sick) less a trumped-up story altogether. The only way of meeting the case was in kifting prosecution; and these he found were contradictory: it was a very remarkable tcansaction for Chow Atuk to take a bundle of notes, and without ever counting them. witness said he did. He could easily understand, when an inquiry was set on foot come forward and complain against one in a position like that of Inspector Lawrence. He could produce witnesses to prove that the alterations were really made; but if the Magistrate would even then commit-he had much better reserve his defence. His Worship remarked that any evidence which could be produced might go to show the improbability of the money being paid but that, in the face of the evidence against him, would not remove the necessity of committal. The fact of Tam Achov not attaining the object for which he paid the money would be a very strong incentive for him to bring the charge; while the fact of the incident being two months old would partialy explain any differences in the minor details. He was afraid, if the evidence for the defence went no farther than probabi lities, he had better commit at once. At the request of the defendant's attorney. however, the case was a tjourned until next day at 2 o'clock, as one of the witnesses would be unable to appear at the Criminal Sessions, His Worship, however, refused to grant bail, on the ground that the case was in course of investigation; and the Magistrate further refused to allow defend ant to be detained in the Charge-Room instead of the Gaol, because when so serious a charge was made against one so nearly connected with the Police, were he to escape during the night and fail to appear tomorrow, the Mazistrate would find some difficulty in defending his conduct in departing from the general rule.

The defendant was therefore removed in Tuesday, May 12. On the case being resumed this after noon, Mr Francis (on defendant's behalf said that he would reserve the defence. the same time, he trusted that his Worship would allow a reasonable bail, as one in the position of an inspector of Police was not likely to be in a position to get a large bail; while fixing it at a high rate was tanta-

The facts in relation to the appointment are as follows : I was on the Percipy proceeding to the treaty ports of China ascertain what changes our citizens desired to have made in the treaties, provided a revision should be determined upon, after which it was my intention to resign and go nome. The knowledge of this coming the Chinese, Prince Kung gave a farewell dinner, at which great regret was expressed at my resolution to leave China, and urgen requests made that I would, like Sir Frederick Bruce, state China's difficulties, and inform the Treaty Powers of their sincere desire to be friendly and progressive. This cheerfully promised to do. During the conversation Wensiung, a leading man of the empire, said- "Why will you not represent us officially?" I repulsed the suggestion playfully, and the conversation passed to other topics. Subsequently I was nformed that the Chinese were most desirous, and a request was made through M Brown. MORE ABOUT THE TICHBORNE BARONETCY

The Hobart Town Mercury says :- We have been requested to give insertion to out by the last mail to a lady in Hobart Town in reference to the claimant to the Tichborne baronetcy:

A sailor, we believe, has been found who has been shown a photograph. of the claimant. He recognises this, we are told, as the likeness of Sir Roger Tichborne, whom he saw on board the Bella, talking to the captain a short time before her departure from Brazil. This sailor was was not with her on her last voyage. And servants of the family, by residents in the neighbourhood.—these witnesses numbering in all ninety-seven. The tailor of the regiment swears that De Castro correctly described to him the shape and material o the last two suits he obtained from him, and identified the photograph of one of his former fellow officers. An explanation is also afforded as to why De Castro was the name assumed by the claimant, and it is this, that Sir Roger, when in Chili, was acquainted with a family of that name. To one of that family he lately wrote, recalling the circumstance and conversations be had with them; and, in reply; a letter was received in which all his statements were confirmed. All these facts are rather singular, whilst the considerations, on the opposite side, are no less deserving of attention, though, of course, we express no opinion either one way or the other. As the claimant lived for many years near Wagga and Deniliquin, evidence obtained in that quarter will not be the least valuable; and the solicitor for the plaintiff, Mr Allport, with Mr Berliner, will, we believe, set out to-day on a journey to endeavour to trace his wanderings through Gipps Land and the south of the adjoining colony.

> THE DISCOVERIES IN JERUSALEM, The Loudon Times publishes an interesing letter in regard to the discoveries in progress at Jerusalem from which we select the following:--

> The colossal foundations of the temple which are "stones of ten cubits and stones of eight cubits," laid by Solomon or his successors on the throne, are now being lasd bare at the enormous depth of ninety feet and more beneath the present surface. The bridge that once spanned the ravine between the palace on Zion and the temple on Moriah, is now proved to have been uvwards of one hundred feet high. If this. be as it seems, the ascent to the house of the Lord which Solomon showed to the Queen of Sheba, we cannot wonder that on secing it there was no more spirit in her. The pinnacle of the temple, on which the tempter placed the Saviour, has just been uncovered to the base, and is found still to have an elevation of 136 feet. The statement of Josephus is therefore no exaggeration. "If any one looked from the battlements into the valley he would be giddy. while his sight could not reach to such an immense depth." Sections of the ancient wall of Ophel have been exhumed, showing that, as Josephus says, it was joined to the southeast angle of the Temple. Aqueducts, cisterus, rockhewn channels, and passages, have also been discovered within and around the harem, throwing new light on the buildings, the arrangements, and the > survices of the temple. The great work of a complete exploration of ancient Jerusalem is thus fairly and auspiciously commenced. The opportune visit of the Sultan and grand vizier to this country, and the representations made to the latter by the archbishop of York, followed up as they have been by the energy the wisdom, and the taut of Lieutenant Warren and his admirable staff, have smoothed down Moslom projudice, removed local opposition, and thus brought about opportunities for excavation and exploration such as never occurred before; and besides. large number of Arab laborers have been trained to the work and are eager, to be employed; and the exact points for anccessful exploration are now well-known.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS & OINTMENT HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. HIS Medicine is universally admitted to be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. It is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females while those who are attenuated by the de-

The science of Medicine has never befo a produced any remedy that can be compar's to this wonderful Uintment, as it care wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China. It is the true tf friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as cortain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treat-Hongkong, February 1, 1867.
